If you set up the video with unnecessary equipment, then all your effort will be wasted as it is going to look like a mess. For setting up a studio, you will need a few necessary tools like lighting, camera, backdrop, lens, tripod, microphone, and audio interface. It can gradually decrease your popularity on YouTube. There are so many things that are essential for a video studio. In this review, went through each category of the things you need from Amazon, as well as explaining them after reading a dozen reviews from independent publishers and forums. Purchasing video studio setup products for YouTube is not a no-brainer like buying a can of soda. You have to think of different uses for the products, as well as their quality. If you find a reversible and washable backdrop, the better! You will then be able to use more than one color and have the flexibility to wash it when it gets dirty. Also, make sure you can buy the replacement bulbs and change them. The third thing to think about is your camera setup and lens you pick. Yes, there are numerous cameras and lenses available, but we chose the one that had the best reviews from professionals and independent media outlets. You cannot allow yourself to get an excellent camera, just to risk it falling over because of the unstable tripod. Last, you should think about the sound that accompanies the video. Mixing or overdubbing your sound has never been easier with the product we picked. The Best Seller Julius Studio Backdrop Stand Kit is a lightweight backdrop system that can be adjusted according to the demand of your work. You can use it for various shootings. The Julius Studio system is 10 feet wide with one male crossbar component and one female crossbar component. The kit comes with 2 supports stands and 3 photo clamps, as well as the sand bag and the carry bag. The adjustable height of the Julius Studio stand is up to 7. A backdrop is an indispensable element for the video studio and it should be eye-catching with nice colors that add life to your videos and photos. Muslin material is extremely lightweight and you can fold it easily when needed. It is machine washable and durable. Its dimensions are 13 x 8 x 8 inches, which makes it perfect to add on most backdrop systems. This backdrop adds a new flavor to your studio and adds a dash of professionalism to your work. The best thing about Heorryn 4 in 1 Collapsible Reversible Backdrop is its portability and the possibility to reverse it when you need another color. It is double-sided and comes in gold, silver, blue, and green color. You can easily rotate it to the desired setting, and then attach it to your own stand. It comes with a 2-year warranty. Everyone needs good lighting for their YouTube videos. You can find good lighting systems at an affordable price. The cheapest from lighting studio sets is Emart Studio Umbrella Set. You can adjust them onto an inch light stand. Plus, it comes with a bulb bag and a carry case where you can fit the entire kit. Video studio is incomplete without perfect lighting. Starting your own YouTube channel definitely is an exciting prospect. That is why we created this list on the best YouTube channel starter kits so you can start uploading in no time. Thankfully we have done the research and found the best YouTube channel starter kits for all types of budgets. Having a camera is of course the most critical piece of equipment that you will need. But there is more to the story! The second most import piece of gear is the humble SD Card. This allows you to record your awesome videos onto storage for later editing. A few months later I realized that I needed to improve my audio so I invested in a shotgun microphone. Another month down the track I needed another SD Card for more storage and a tripod. By purchasing these items individually rather than in a kit, I ended up spending more money and wasting more time! So after learning from these lessons. Here are our favourite YouTube channel starter kits to get you started on the right track. If you are in the market for the very best YouTube channel starter kits, then this might be the one for you. This camera kit really does include it all from a great quality DSLR, exterior directional microphone, tripod, SD card, camera bag, 2 lenses, extra batteries plus heaps more! This is because in my opinion, Canon offers up a lot more features that cater to video in their cameras compared to other competitors. Compared to the above Canon T5i, this Canon 80D is that camera on steroids! You essentially get the same features but a lot more advanced. Once you add all these features and items together, you get one powerhouse of a YouTube Vlogging setup! You may of heard of the Canon Rebel T5i before and most probably for all the right reasons. This camera is preferred by many YouTubers for its ability to produce great quality video. Another big reason for its popularity is that it is surprisingly affordable considering the amount of features it has. Some stand outs from this camera include the touch flip screen, continuous auto focus, image stabilisation and p at 30fps video recording. Having all these features working together allow you to produce amazing video content in almost any lighting situation. The only thing lacking from this kit is a tripod which may not be a big deal depending on your style of videos. You can pick up the Joby GorillaPod as an add-on for a very affordable price if needed. Add the Canon T5i and all these extras and you get one hell of a good setup to get started as a YouTuber! After researching many YouTube kits, this one kept popping up because of its value for money and the surprising quality that is offered. The camera included in this bundle is the Canon Powershot SX There are more components that are included within a good Vlogging setup. We have written guides on these items below. You can also see our guide on picking the best vlogging camera here. Save Save Save Save. Save Save. I would have been very upset! Your email address will not be published.
